YOUR HOME TOWN

DAISIES.

Some daisies found their way to our desk yesterday, for which we are grateful to Mrs. Ethel Parris Anderson who brought them to us. There's nothing like fragrant flowers to help dispel care and worry and to help brighten up the room. We appreciate all gifts, of course, but there's nothing we appreciate more than beautiful flowers in the springtime.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

Some chrysanthemums also found their way to our desk yesterday. Now don't think we have the wrong flower in mind, for they were really and truly chrysanthemums, blooming in the springtime, although they ordinarily do not bloom here until fall and winter. They were grown in the yard of W. I. Bryan, of the firm of Bryan Bros., implement dealers, and wife, on North College street, Mr. Bryan bringing them to us to show that his chrysanthemums did not have to wait until fall to bloom. They are beautiful things of a cream color. And to Mr. Bryan we also wish to express our heartiest thanks.

WORKING THEIR CROPS.

Pretty weather the past few days has permitted farmers of this rich, black land county of Collin to get in their fields and resume farm work. Cotton is being chopped out and plowed. Corn is being hoed and plowed. Gardens and truck patches are being attended to. The grass is being pulled and hoed from around the onions. Reapers and combines are being worked in the grain fields from early morn until late at night Yes, our farmers are busy. We miss them from our streets, but we are glad, as they are, that they have some fair weather so they can work in their crops.

THIS YEAR'S OATS.

And in front of A. J. Commons' Produce we saw some threshed oats, with this sign, "Threshed June 3, 1929." Yes sir, this year's oats, cut and threshed with a combine on Mr. Commons' farm near this city. Harvesting is under way in our county and the golden wheat and oat fields beckon to the owner to get busy with the reaper and the combine. We should make an average grain yield this year, most of our farmers assert.

ANOTHER HOLIDAY.

Some of us were caught "napping" Monday when we started for one of the banks in McKinney, only to find the door closed. Then, of course, we remembered that it was Jefferson Davis' birthday, a legal holiday. The bankers enjoyed a holiday yesterday, but they are making up for lost time today. If you visited one of the local banks today you observed for yourself that there was no one loafing on the job.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES.

If you were out at the Decoration day services at the Woodlawn (Noyes) cemetery Sunday afternoon, you heard one of the most impressive and interesting programs perhaps you have ever heard on a decoration day. The Jimmie Gelgas Legion post of this city had charge of the services and had prepared what is generally regarded as the best decoration day program they have ever conducted there.

GOOD COUNTY; FINE PEOPLE.

Collin county citizens always appreciate the good roads over the county, but these splendid highways have been especially appreciated and enjoyed the past several weeks, during the rainy spell. There was a time when the rains kept people in the rural districts from leaving their home. Not so today, however, for our farmers have good roads leading by their homes, and as a result can go anywhere they choose in fair or foul weather. Thus, the world moves on. For one, we are mighty glad we live in such a progressive and live-wire county as Collin. Known all over Texas as one of the leading agricultural counties in the state, Collin's rich, black land annually yields thousands of dollars in farm products of all kinds, such as cotton, corn, wheat, oats, rye, maize, onions, garlic, as well as all truck and garden products. Another thing, you can not excel the excellent type of citizenship such as we boast in this rich farming area. We are satisfied to live in such a progressive county. If we were not, we would make other arrangements. You will have to travel long and far to find a better county than Collin and a better city than McKinney.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. (Bob) Gordon left Sunday morning at 6 o'clock for San Angelo in response to a message that Mrs. Gordon's mother, Mrs. John Y. Rust, was seriously ill. Mrs. Rust has visited her daughter in McKinney several times during the last four years, and has made many friends here who will regret to hear of her illness.

BUSY TIMES IN COURT; 3 JURIES OUT AT ONE TIME

Three juries were out at the same time for awhile here Tuesday afternoon in the Fifty-Ninth District court, presided over by Judge F. E. Wilcox. They were the juries in the following cases:

State of Texas vs. John C. Cromer, charged with the sale of intoxicating liquor.

State of Texas vs. Charlie Webb, charged with burglary.

State of Texas vs. Bud Lout, charged with sale of intoxicating liquor.

Cromer was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary. Webb was given a five-year suspended sentence. Lout was tried in two cases, one of the juries failing to agree, being dismissed and the other returning a verdict of not guilty.

In the case of the State of Texas vs. T. T. Trammell, charged in three cases with forgery, on a plea of guilty, Trammell was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary in each case.

This is the first time, court officials assert, that they ever recall three juries being out at the same time, while district court has been in session in this city.

MOUZONS MOVE TO OKLAHOMA CITY; FUTURE HOME

H. D. MOUZON NOW STATE MANAGER IN OKLA. OF BIG LIFE INSURANCE CO.

H. D. Mouzon and wife left McKinney this week, where they have resided for a number of years for their future home at Oklahoma City. Mr. Mouzon lately accepted the position as state manager of Oklahoma for the Amicable Life Insurance company of Waco, with which company he has been connected as a supervisor of agents for several years.

The Mouzons leave a multitude of good friends in McKinney who regret very greatly their loss from our city.

Their home in Oklahoma City is 2853 West 16th street, to which address the Daily Courier-Gazette was changed in order that they may keep up with their old McKinney home news.

H. D. Mouzon is classed among the most successful life insurance men and agency managers in the South. We congratulate the Amicable on placing its Oklahoma future development in so capable hands.

FIRE IS HALTED BEFORE X-RAY FILMS REACHED

CHICAGO GENERAL HOSPITAL IS SCENE OF BIG BLAZE

Chicago, Ill., June 5.—Fire broke out in the boiler room of the Chicago General hospital spreading quickly in the four-story structure. Eighteen patients were rescued.

Firemen, police, physicians and nurses joined in carrying terror-stricken patients from the smoke-filled building.

A check-up revealed only one was injured.

The fire was quenched before it reached a quantity of X-ray films on the first floor.

The flames were within ten feet of the explosive film when put out.

Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan said he would investigate apparent carelessness with which the films were scattered about.

"If the fire had reached the films, the situation might have been much more serious," Corrigan said, recalling the recent Cleveland hospital disaster. "A lethal gas would have been loosed and probably would have taken a large toll of life."

A half dozen acts of heroism occurred while the patients were being carried to safety.

FOUR SISTERS ARE GRADUATE NURSES

Four sister graduate nurses is the record just established by the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Woody, a worthy farm couple, who live on part of the Heard land near Princeton, and who get their mail on Route 5, McKinney.

These four sister graduate nurses are: Misses Sallie, Maude and Jo Woody and Mrs. J. B. Turner, the latter now of McKinney. All four of these daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Woody are graduates of the Princeton High school under the superintendency of Prof. J. W. Atkins.

Miss Sallie and Miss Maude were given their diplomas at the graduating exercises held by Baylor hospital on Monday night, May 27 at Dallas. Miss Jo Woody, 416 South Kings Highway, St. Louis, Mo., who is a professional nurse, now in the great Barnes hospital of that city, is a graduate of the nurses' school of the McKinney hospital, as is her sister, Mrs. J. B. Turner, who was formerly Miss Luna Woody.

It is a rare thing for more than one professional nurse to come from the same family, much less as in this instance four sisters in the same profession.

These young ladies were all born and reared near Princeton where their father, J. M. Woody, is esteemed as one of our county's finest men and very best citizens. Mr. Woody is a member of the McKinney Masonic lodge, of which local lodge of this ancient fraternity he was formerly worshipful master.

The Woody sisters are all modest, cultured young ladies of the highest type of professional nurses. They are devoted to their profession in which three of them are actively engaged. The fourth one was also active in the work until her marriage to Joe Bailey Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milt Turner, a widely known farm couple, living about seven or eight miles southwest of McKinney.

Miss Kessler Becomes Bride of Duer Burton

Miss Opal Kessler, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Kessler, of Van Alstyne, and Duer Burton, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Burton, of this city were married Tuesday night in Sherman, preceding the Austin college commencement exercises when the groom received his A. B. degree. Both are well-known young people in this city and vicinity, whose many friends are extending congratulations.

S. H. Monk and son, S. H. Jr., living on Route 2, Farmersville, were business visitors in McKinney yesterday. Mr. Monk is an excellent farmer and is a good friend of this editor and paper whom we have known for many years. He lives in the Midway community.

Fort Worth, May 30.—Miss Helen Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Scott of McKinney, will take her A. B. degree from T. C. U. June 3.

MISS MAURINE FAULKNER PATIENT BAYLOR HOSPITAL

Miss Maurine Faulkner, one of the honor pupils of the 1929 graduating class of Boyd High school, is a patient in Baylor hospital, Dallas, where she underwent a serious surgical operation. Miss Faulkner's room is No. 186, and she would be glad to have any of her friends, who are visiting in Dallas, call by and see her.

Maurine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Faulkner of this city. She is an attractive young lady of sweet disposition, who has a wide circle of friends in this city, all of whom are anxious for her speedy recovery. Mrs. Wiley McKinney and Mrs. Bob Bomar, both of this city, attended her bedside Monday evening and report her to be doing nicely, which is pleasing news to her friends here.

Editorials

We are informed that luck always seems to favor the man who doesn't count on it.

Evidently this came from a dietitian: Better a full garbage can than an overloaded stomach.

Good gardens abound in grand old Collin this year. Fresh vegetables mean both good health and good times.

Good roads are necessary to this modern age. Let's build them better and more lasting. In the long run that is the most economical.

Collin farm values are lowest in years. Now, is the time for getting a real home bargain. The same may be said of McKinney city property.

Money is very much like people in this respect: When it isn't working it gets shiftless and acquires bad habits.

Someone has said that the four ages of man are: The gimme age, the yessir age, the fetch-it-here age and what's-the-world-coming-to age.

More than 450,000,000 volumes of the bible were circulated last year in China. This was the largest circulation ever attained in one year in China. The American Bible house is located at Peking.

"There can be no doubt that prohibition is putting money into the American family pocketbook. The dry law has proved its worth in dollars and cents."—President Herbert Hoover.

Collin has a promising corn crop in prospect again this year. A fairly good oat crop is already made now if it can be saved. Our black land farmers consider themselves fortunate when they make both good corn and good oat crops.

According to Jake Connally, a Northeast Collin farmer of the Boggy community, there are an increasing number of wolves showing up in that section of the county. These animals are depredating on poultry, pigs and calves, causing the farmers some loss. An effort will be made to trap and kill them out during the next few months.

The season of canning is on again. Good gardens, good berry crops, with promising fruit crops, are already providing plenty to can. Every farm home should have a steam pressure canner to conserve these surplus products and keep them in the family larder to supply home consumption during every month of the year.

"The people decided on a policy of restricted alcohol consumption to the lowest possible degree. The government has made this piling up of revenue the chief purpose of the act. Moderation does not moderate. Government control does not control. The British Columbia liquor system has actually failed."—Sir Hugh McDonald of Canada, in the Vancouver Sun.

The American Bible Society was instrumental in circulating eleven million copies of the scriptures during 1928. This surpassed all other previous records of distribution. The scriptures were distributed in 182 languages. The America Bible Society is 113 years old. Last year marks the fourth year in succession in which the Bible circulation of each preceding year has been exceeded.

MEDITTERRANEAN FRUIT FLY.

The indications of infestation of the Mediterranean fruit fly, particularly of grapefruit, will be a softening of the fruit as a whole, or in particular spots, such softness being readily determined by the pressure of the fingers at different points of the surface. A more pronounced infestation will be characterized by the bleeding of the fruit under slight pressure at exit holes, which are made through the rind by the maturing maggots. Sometimes an indication will be a slight hardening and browning of the skin at the place covering the point in the orange or grapefruit where the maggots are working. This discoloration may be found even when there has been no noticeable softenin gat such point. No household fruit, under any suspicion whatever, should be thrown out into the garbage or otherwise, but should be kept in tightly covered metal or glass containers to be turned over promptly to the proper state plant inspector or local officer designated by the state. In a very slightly infested fruit, infestation may be difficult to find inasmuch as the maggots are very active and are apt to wriggle out of sight into more or less firm tissue, but in all cases of advanced infestation or where the maggots have reached nearly full growth their finding is not difficult.

The farm population of the United States is now said to be the lowest in twenty years. The Bureau of Economics of the Agricultural department estimates our farm population January 1, last, at 27,511,000 as compared with a peak of 32,000,000 in 1909. But for the fact that the birth rate on farms has been exceeding the death rate, the farm population would be much lower today than it is, since the trend has been for rural to urban communities for some years. The bureau states that 1,960,000 persons left the farm last year for the cities, while but 1,362,000 went from cities to farms. Improved transportation facilities have enabled many actual farmers to reside in towns and cities, where they desire to take advantage of the educational facilities for their children, and still operate their farms, but in these cases persons so living are no longer counted in the official statistics as farm residents, although to all intent and purposes they are farmers.

"Wealth of the United States in 1925 was $355,000,000,000, an increase of about $35,000,000,000 since 1922. Savings bank depositors increased 23,000,000 during 1920 to 1925; savings increased at the same time by $8,000,000,000."—National Industrial Conference Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Largent left today for points in Colorado, where they will spend the summer. They spent Tuesday night in Dallas where they were joined on their trip by their little nephew, Virgil Saunders Jr.

TEXANS LET'S TALK TEXAS

and now CARNATION comes to Texas.

TEXANS have talked Texas again with splendid results. The Carnation Milk Products Company, after a tour of intensive investigation of the possibilities of dairy development in Texas, is now building a $300,000 milk condensery at Schulenburg.

At the time of making the announcement of the location of the Schulenburg condensery, the Carnation Milk Products Company also announced the purchase of a building site at Sulphur Springs. This action is indicative of the sound faith which this great company has in the possibilities of milk production in Texas.

The coming of Carnation to Texas, right on the heels of the coming of Borden, brings to this state the world's largest buyers of whole milk. These and other milk and milk products plants will pay millions of dollars to Texas farmers each year. There is probably no other type of manufacturing plant which would sustain a payroll of such economic significance.

As Carnation and other great organizations extend their activities in Texas, our Texas farmers will gain a new appreciation of the solid value of the dairy cow as a source of daily income; and business will gain a new respect for the economic importance of manufacturers who use farm products as raw material.

The Texas Power & Light Company takes this occasion to commend the foresight of the Carnation Milk Products Company in coming to Texas. This Company also expresses its commendation of the efforts of those Texans who worked so diligently in helping the Carnation executives in making their decision to come to Texas.

It is this sort of "talking Texas" which means much to the rapid and sound development of Texas. Texans, let's talk Texas!

Other Records of 1922.

July 1st I called to see J. L. Weeks who was quite sick. Jack had to use the hospital for two operations and treatments, but it takes more than that to keep him down very long. During the afternoon I attended the meeting of the Farmers Mutual Insurance Co., in which my country home was insured. On the 2nd a good rain. On that day after church Henry Hagerman an able young minister of the Christian church who was in a meeting at Caddo Mills was instantly killed by a Katy train. Also a brother Bingham, to whose home they were going for dinner. A young brother Payne, a student of T. C. U. at Fort Worth was in the auto with them and was seriously hurt but recovered. As Bingham was a very useful man this loss was felt at home as well as in evangelism. On the 5th I went out to my farm and I do not think I ever saw a finer prospect for a big yield of corn. It had never needed rain a day. On the 8th, I visited Jack Weeks and others in hospital. On the 9th, after attending the forenoon services at the church, I went to Bois d' Arc and preached to 30 people at 3 p. m. On the 11th, I went with Judge H. L. Davis to Howe where I spoke at the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Douglas After leaving Howe we came to Hackberry cemetery near Van Alstyne for the burial. On the 12th, Sam Rayburn, our Congressman spoke on his work in Congress. I was selected to introduce him.

A Chicken Murdered.

Prof. T. A. Haddock who was teaching in the Free Methodist College in the northwest part of McKinney was a breeder of Barred Rock chickens. He and his wife came to see my flock to purchase a cock bird to head his flock. I had some nice cockerels and one or two cocks two years old. He said that they had rather purchase a cockerel if it was not for a neighbor's Rhode Island Red cock that whipped all the others. He said I want that old cock in that south pen just to see him whip old Red. In a day or two he came over to see me for a cockerel. I inquired as to how the old cock was doing. Well he said, I did not aim to tell you, but he is no good. That old Red cock murdered him the first round. I sold him a cockerel. The luck was mine. On the 17th with the thermometer registering 97 degrees, I walked three miles to visit a few sick people from 3 to 5 p. m. On the 19th temperature 102 degrees. During the forenoon I visited C. P. Carter and Capt. J. L. Greer, "shut-ins" and Confederate veterans. 22nd temperature 104. It was a hot time for the Primary Election. Not all the candidates could keep cool. I was chosen a delegate to the county convention. From the "cut and dried" program, I think I had been chosen before hand. It was a precinct convention with a very few conveners. On Sunday, July 23rd I was called to Melissa to speak at the funeral of Sister Mary Douglas, age past 80 years. She was the widow of Eld. Alf M. Douglass and mother of J. W. and Miss Alice Douglass of Melissa. On the 25th, I assisted Gen. E. W. Kirkpatrick to prepare for the picnic dinner given to Confederate Veterans, their wives and widows by Scott-Dixon Chapter of United Daughters of the Confederacy. On the 26th, I assisted to stretch a tent at E. W. Kirkpatrick's then came home and after making some preparations, returned and met and greeted comrades. I registered 98 men. We ate a good dinner and had a fine social time till about 5 p. m. when good byes were said. A light shower on the 27th cooled the air some. On the 28th, I called to see R. L. Waddill, whom I found quite sick. 27th was warm as temperature 104 degrees in shade. It was getting quite dry as well as hot.

July followed the more than 50 rains to June 30th with a dry month.

Some August Records.

August 2nd, temperature 108 during part of the day. On the 5th I took the marriage vows of J. S. Nelson and Miss Dorothy Oneal and declared them to be husband and wife. They took their first bridal tour by bringing me home after the wedding. On the 7th, John Carter of Roland was crushed to death against a brick wall on North Tennessee street by a tourist car driver. On the 9th, J. B. Snider and I held funeral services at the First Baptist church over the body of John Carter. His remains were buried in Orenduff cemetery. On Sunday the 13th, I preached at Bois d' Arc in afternoon. On the 15th, I visited sick in hospital. On the 17th, I held a funeral service at Horn cemetery at the burial of Mrs. Harriet N. Thompson. On 19th, I visited patients in the hospital. On the 24th, I called to see R. L. Waddill, a very sick man. On the 25th, I introduced J. H. (Cyclone) Davis who spoke against Ferguson's official record. In his mimicry and antic style, he reviewed the official record of Ex-Governor Ferguson. Saturday, Aug. 26th closed a disgraceful campaign for office. On the 30th, I called at the hospital to see R. L. Waddill and found him near the end of life here. August 31st, R. L. Waddill passed away at 5 a. m. today. I am requested to take a part in his funeral tomorrow at 5 p. m. We were school mates in 1866 and 67 at the Muse Mount Pleasant High school. August closed dry.

WHEAT AND OAT HARVEST IN FULL BLAST

Cutting wheat and oats both commenced in earnest Monday morning, June 3.

Recent heavy rains caused a cessation in the work of harvesting for eight or ten days. Consequently much small grain is now ready for the self binder and farmers returned to their fields with their reapers with renewed vigor as soon as the ground was dry enough for them to work.

The grain acreage in the county is considerable and both wheat and oats give promise of making fairly good yields.

EX-SHERIFF FEELS 20 YEARS YOUNGER

"I am 63 years old. Take a man my age, down and out physically, and let him find some medicine that puts him on his feet like Sargon did me, and he is going to tell about it."

HENRY C. KING

said Henry C. King, 2112 West 11th st., Oklahoma City, an "old timer" who for 50 years as cattleman and deputy sheriff has maintained a reputation as a "straight shooter."

"When I saw myself begin to get old and puny a few years ago, I began to try nearly every medicine I ever heard of to get me straight but I couldn't get anything to do me any lasting good.

"Then I tried Sargon, and it soon had me feeling twenty years younger. Today, two months since I quit taking Sargon I feel just a good. A friend met me the other day and said, "Why Henry, somebody told me you had been sick. He must have been mistaken. I never saw you looking better."

"We old timers learned to help one another, so I want people to know what Sargon did for me. I couldn't digest anything I ate, my skin was yellow and spotted, and I was so weak that when I lay down I didn't care whether I got up or not. I never had a natural action of my bowels, and had to get up all during the night on account of my kidneys.

"Sargon made me gain fourteen pounds, I eat more and digest it with no trouble; my kidneys have stopped bothering me and my bowels are regular as clockwork; and mind you it has been two months since I quit taking it."

Sargon may be obtained in McKinney from Nortside Drug Co., Inc.; in Melissa from Bridgefarmer & Son; in Celina from Dyer & Jones; in Plano from Allen Brothers; in Blue Ridge from J. O. Nelson; in Anna from Golden Rule Pharmacy; in Wylie from C. C. Fawcet, Druggists; in Josephine from Dan Welch Drug Store; in Westminster from Palace Drug Store; in Nevada from J. A. Taylor; in Frisco from Curtsinger's Drug Store; and in Muphy from J. R. Stewart.

He will also move another one of his drilling outfits to Krum, Texas, in Denton county, where he will spud in an oil well test some time within the next eight or ten days.

Mr. Bell was born and reared on his father's farm, just northwest of McKinney about eight miles. He has made quite a success as an oil and gas well driller in the Texas and Oklahoma fields. This editor was pleased to meet Mr. Bell on his brief visit to see his parents here and to renew our boyhood acquaintances again.

Dr. C. G. Comegys, cashier of the First National bank, has been appointed as chairman for Collin county by Judge Rice Maxey of Sherman to raise $100,000 to build a suitable monument and memorial to Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey at Austin. Dr. Comegys has accepted this high honor. He was reared at Gainesville, Senator Bailey's old home, and they were lifelong, personal friends. FEDERAL AID TO RURAL SCHOOLS

By S. M. N. MARRS, State Supt. Schools of Texas

On May 9, 1929, Hon. Charles Brand of Ohio introduced H. R. 2570 in congress appropriating $100,000,000 from the federal treasury "to aid in the reduction of taxes on farm lands, and to promote elementary education in rural areas of the United States, and to cooperate with the states in the promotion of these objectives." In many sections of the country assessed values are so low that sufficient funds to support good schools cannot be obtained without levying a rate of tax that is almost confiscatory. General relief will be given to the farmer by lowering the school tax. If the state would accept the provisions of this proposed act, in many cases it need not be necessary to levy a local maintenance rate of more than 25c. In the event the bill becomes a law the state will be called upon to match the federal funds on a 50-50 plan, and the allotment to the various states will be made upon the ratio of the rural population of Texas to the total rural population of the United States as determined by the federal census of 1930. An examination of the census of 1920 discloses the fact that the rural population of Texas was 7½ per cent of the total rural population of the United States. This bill proposes to aid all rural schools and those in towns and villages with a population of fewer than 2,500.

The groom, for the past year, taught in the Nocona schools. He has attended the teachers' college at Denton, also. Upon arriving in Lebanon, Tenn., he expects to enter the law school there where he will remain for the next several months.

The many friends of this happy couple extend best wishes and felicitations for a long and happy wedded life.

Miss Mary Leona Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Watson of this city, left Monday morning for Denton, where she will attend the N. T. S. T. C. for the summer term. Miss Watson is a very efficient teacher of our county and will teach at Prosper this fall.

M'KINNEY STAR PITCHER ONE OF EIGHT BROTHERS

FATHER AND SEVEN BROTHERS ALL GOOD BALL PLAYERS

W. N. Nicholas and wife, tenants on the Massie old home place of 200 acres located four miles east of McKinney, and now owned by Dick Massie of this city, were in McKinney Saturday.

They are the parents of Otho (Fatty) Nicholas, the star pitcher on the Lions baleball team, champions of both Texas and Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas are the parents of a large family of children consisting of three daughters and eight sons. All three of the daughters and five of the sons are now married, leaving only the two younger sons, Otho and Floyd, at home with the parents.

The eight Nicholas brothers were all good baseball players and most of them were and are pitchers. They seem to have inherited baseball playing. Their father was a baseball pitcher in his boyhood and younger manhood days. He is still an ardent baseball fan.

Mr. Nicholas was born June 10, 1863, at Gainesville, and has lived over forty years of his life here in Collin. Although he is now 66 years old, he is still a stalwart, vigorous man 6 feet tall, and looks to weigh nearly 200 pounds. His wife was formerly Miss Rebecca Jones who was born in Wise county, Texas, August 1, 1869. She and her husband have been married a little more than forty years. Like her husband, Mrs. Nicholas is in the enjoyment of excellent health. They are very proud of their big family of children.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas have been regular Daily Courier-Gazette subscribers and readers for a number of years. Most of their children who have married and established homes for themselves are also taking either our daily or our weekly newspapers.

Their Children.

The names and addresses of the eleven children of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas are Mrs. R. L. Rains of near Celina, Mrs. W. P. Cleveland of Munday, Knox county, Texas; Mrs. H. R. Davis, living on a route out of Ferris in Ellis county, Texas; John T. Nicholas, Morgan, Bosque county, Texas; Sims and Charley Nicholas, both of Dallas; William C. Nicholas, Route 3, McKinney; H. P. and Napoleon Nicholas, both of Route 5, McKinney, while Otho and Floyd are the young unmarried sons living at home with their parents. Mr. Nicholas would like to see Otho continue in McKinney High school again next year and also would like for his baby son, Floyd, who is about 16 years old, to also come to our excellent schools which he likes because of their excellence and also because they encourage wholesome, healthful athletics.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS HOLD MONTHLY DELIBERATION

PRESIDENT O. A. REESE LEADER OF ORGANIZATION THIS YEAR

President O. A. Reese presided over an interesting monthly meeting of the board of directors of the local Chamber of Commerce held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Secretary C. W. Smith was absent on account of illness. Minutes of the previous meeting, regular and called, were read for Mr. Smith by F. C. Thompson, while Walter B. Wilson kept the proceedings of the meeting of the afternoon.

Mr. Thompson reported for the joint committees of the Lions and Rotary club and Chamber of Commerce having in charge the matter of securing a petition for an election to amend the city charter so as to authorize a small tax levy for United Charities, public library and municipal band. Mr. Thompson stated that a petition had been drawn and was now in the hands of the city commission requesting it to call the election.

An informal discussion of the proposed city managerial form of government was engaged in. All present were unanimous in favoring the city manager plan of municipal government. Mayor Jones and Commissioners Wilson and Miller are also all reported as favorable to the change.

President Reese is an active leader of Chamber of Commerce activity. He is constantly on the alert, together with Secretary Smith, looking out for everything that tends to promote the interests of our city and great county.

Mrs. Compton Died At Farmersville

The Farmersville Times reports the following death:

"Mrs. Drucilla E. Compton, wife of Mr. A. W. Compton, died at her home west of Farmersville on last Tuesday, May 21. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Z. D. Barber of Greenville Wednesday afternoon at the Church of Christ. Interment occurred at the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mrs. Compton was the daughter of Mr. Newt Wardlow. She was born in Mississippi on September 13, 1874, came to this community as a child and has resided here for fifty years. She is survived by her husband and the following children; Mrs. C. T. Wright, Mrs. Vester Henslee, Mrs. Will Havens, Herschel, Lee and Miss Virginia Lee.

Mrs. Compton was a good Christian lady and a long-time member of the Church of Christ. She was greatly loved by her neighbors and many friends. She was an honored member of the local Woodman circle, and honorary pallbearers from this order assisted in the funeral services.

Kali Woods of the Woods cafe in this city was a business visitor in Dallas Friday.

JIMMIE GEIGAS SPONSORS PROGRAM THERE ON SUNDAY

FIRST COLLIN BOY KILLED OVERSEAS LIES SLEEPING THERE

Hundreds of McKinney and Collin county people gathered out at the Woodlawn (Noyes) cemetery Sunday afternoon, where at 2:30 o'clock a most impressive and interesting program was carried out, being the annual decoration day program at that well-known and old Collin cemetery. While the decoration day is for all who have loved ones or friends buried there, yet the services there each year are under the auspices of Jimmie Geigas American Legion post, since the first Collin county boy to be killed in service overseas, Jimmie Geigas, lies sleeping in that "silent city."

There is something impressive and awe-inspiring about all cemeteries, regardless of where they may be located or how large or small it may be. Yet one feels an even more profound sense of reverence and respect at this historic "city of the dead" known as the Woodlawn, or old Noyes cemetery.

For one thing, it is not located on the highway or road. You must leave the highway and go for a quarter of a mile or so down a hillside, where everything is quiet and peaceful and where one seems to be a little closer to nature and to their Creator.

In such a spot is the Woodlawn cemetery located. And in that "silent city" sleeps some of Collin county's best-known and outstanding citizens.

As expected, there was a large crowd present for this service. The program was declared to be one of the best ever rendered by the local legion post at its annual decoration day program there.

Having been previously postponed once because of inclement weather, the real summer weather of Sunday was an incentive for every one who had relatives or friends buried there, to be present and to decorate the graves and listen to the splendid program that had been prepared.

Post Commander T. W. Franklin was master of ceremonies for the occasion. Comrade W. C. Dowdy offered the invocation, being post chaplain of Jimmie Geigas post.

Miss Emma Lou Presley, charming and beloved by every acquaintance, added to the program with a splendid reading.

The McKinney Firemen's quartet always in demand because of their splendid vocal ability and harmony was present, singing two numbers, "Jesus Savior, Pilot Me," and "We Are Going Down the Valley One by One." Members of this quartet who sang Sunday were Messrs. Tom Mitchell, E. L. Kissinger, Elmer Parris, and Peyton Adams.

The congregation also had a part in the program, the entire crowd joining in singing "Shall We Gather at the River?"

The two principal addresses of the day were delivered by Hon. H. H. Neilson and Judge A. M. Wolford. Their talks have been the source of much favorable comment and praise by the scores who heard them Sunday afternoon. Having the reputation of being two of the city's outstanding lawyers and capable orators, they easily gained, and maintained the interest of their hearers throughout their addresses.

Hon. Mr. Nerson, in his address, told of the great World war, and of the hundreds of brave Collin county boys, such as Jimmie Geigas, who went across the ocean, many of them never to return. Needless to say, his talk was not only impressive, but interesting and he held the attention of his hearers throughout his address.

Judge A. M. Wolford, the other speaker of the day, commanded the attention of his large audience as he entered into a discussion of the improvements made in burying the dead from ages past. He told of the methods ancients employed in disposing of their dead and how the modern age has advanced and improved in caring for those who have passed on.

Miss Mary Bull, who has been president of the Woodlawn Cemetery association for the past several years, informed her hearers of the association and the work it had done in years past. The well-kept and clean cemetery bespoke what the association had been doing and plainly evidenced that its members had been busy in seeing to it that this "silent city" should be well cared for and attended.

The graves were decorated in beautiful spring blooming flowers, including roses, sweet peas, verbenas, nasturtiums, and other flowers that are blooming in the city and county at the present time.

NEW CHANNEL EAST FORK TO DRAIN 7,000 ACRES

STATE RECLAMATION ENGINEER TO SPEAK AT WYLIE JUNE 5

A movement to cut a new channel in East Fork, which would reclaim from 7,000 to 8,000 acres of Collin county's richest black land soil in Southeast Collin from overflow danger, has been launched, so The Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette were informed Monday.

J. L. Bass, prominent farmer of the Bishop school house community, seven and one-half miles southeast of this city, and son, Levi Bass, were in McKinney Monday in the interest of this project which would mean the saving of thousands of dollars to farmers in Southeast Collin.

If the movement is carried through to completion, a new channel in East Fork creek would be cut from the Santa Fe railroad, at Wylie, to the Lowery Crossing community, a distance of about twelve miles. The purpose of this plan, of course, is to prevent the overflow of the land bordering East Fork, which have been occurring with too frequent regularity the past year or two.

These overflows this spring, Mr. Bass informs us, have practically ruined all growing crops in much of the section mentioned, regarded as the richest land in Collin county, which grows all crops luxuriantly every year.

Mr. Williams, state reclamation engineer of Austin, will be in Collin county Wednesday of this week, June 5. In the forenoon he will visit as much of this land as possible and at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon he will make an address in Wylie on this important project.

To effect such a plan it will be necessary to organize the district and supervisors appointed by the county commissioners' court, and a survey made of the land. An election would then be ordered in order to float a bond issue, the amount of the bonds to be decided after the survey is made.

Such a project carried through to completion would not only prove beneficial to Wylie and that immediate section of the county, but would also prove helpful to many other parts of Collin county. The business men of Wylie are strongly in favor of the plan.

Farmers whose land would be affected by the new East Fork channey will find that the cost will be small when compared to the beneficial results to be obtained, probably costing them from $1.25 to $1.50 an acre each year during the time limit of the bond issue.

Such a plan has been carried out to some extent in Fannin, Lamar and Delta counties, where the farmers have been greatly helped and praise highly the new channel running through portions of those counties.

Loyd Lowe, manager of the Mid-West Circulation Syndicate, wife and little son were in the city Monday. It will be remembered that Mr. Lowe was in McKinney for several weeks in December and January conducting a circulation campaign for the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

The deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dickerson, who reside in the south part of the city, and by three sisters as follows, Mrs. Agnes Reynolds, Mrs. Annie York and Mrs. Jewel Swanzy, all of McKinney.

Funeral services were conducted at the graveside (Tuesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. J. F. Smith of this city. Interment was in Pecan Grove cemetery. The Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Spillman spent the week-end in Lancaster, guests of the former's brother, Mike Spillman, who returned home with them for a brief visit.

Mrs. R. B. Parker chaperoned the Intermediate B. Y. P. U. to Finch park Monday afternoon where the youngsters enjoyed games and the amusement devices of the park and where they spread their picnic lunch.

Tuesday, Bob Carroll and Bud Milraney went to Denton after berries in their Ford. Coming home just west of Frisco, in passing another car, Bud lost control of his car and ran into a ditch and overturned the car. Bud's left arm was broken, while Bob got some severe bruises and scratches. However, they got home with some berries.

Mrs. Manly Beard and daughters, Annie Lee and Lorraine of Clovis, N. M., are visiting their sister-in-law and aunt, Mrs. E. F. England, and husband here. They are also visiting Mrs. Jim W. McKinney and family in McKinney, and Dr. Hicks at Plano. Manly Beard once lived here and attended our schools. We remember him as one of the finest young fellows of the community.

Quite a few from Melissa attended the baccalaureate sermon in McKinney Sunday, several of our young folks being members of the graduating class of the McKinney High school. They are: Mary Henry and Kathleen Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Mallow Graves, Oliver Nevil, Alex Trantham and family, C. R. Osburn and wife, G. W. Porter and son, Cecil and W. R. Wallis, and family.

Word has been received here by relatives that Dr. J. Davis' two daughters, in El Paso had been bitten by a dog with hydrophobia. The children's parents are taking every precaution and giving the rabies serum. The children were rather severely bitten, the elder being bitten on the hip, the younger on the ankle and lower limb. These children are the grandchildren of J. M. Graves and wife. They have visited here several times in the past several months with their grandparents here about three years ago, while their father and mother were in Europe. During the time the eldest daughter, Adelaide, attended school in McKinney. The father, Dr. J. Davis, practiced medicine in Melissa with his father for several years, the mother was Miss Nannah Graves, only daughter of J. M. Graves and wife. The dog that bit the girls was a neighbor's dog and one that they had been in the habit of playing with. He died in a short while after biting them. The relatives and friends here are very anxious about the outcome as to the two little girls who were bitten.

FARMERSVILLE SELLS ITS LAST NEW BUGGY

Editor M. B. Smith of the Farmersville Times tells of an unusual event in local trade circles of his good little East Collin city that reminds us of the radical change in conditions that just a few years can bring about. He says:

The Last New Buggy Sale.

A very unusual thing happened in Farmersville Wednesday—it was the first time such a thing had occurred here since 1922—therefore, it caused considerable comment. We refer to the sale of a buggy by the hardware firm of Stewart Bros. The sale was made to T. E. Ball of bois d'arc fame, one of the old-timers who has never driven a car. Mr. Ball didn't necessarily need a new buggy, for he is using one which he has driven for a good many years—but he decided to spruce up a little and therefore he has indulged in one of those single buggies with rubber tires of the "h-m-t" variety. In company with Hugo Simon we inspected the buggy before it was delivered—and it brought trooping before our mind memories of those good old days when we would plank down our $1.50 at the livery stable and get in return the use of a horse and buggy for the afternoon—and then for the girl, and the resulting thrilling drive as we rushed gaily over town and country while we whispered sweet nothings into the shell-like auricle of our lady-love. The modern flaming youths think they are having a heck of a time as they rip around over paved streets at fifty miles an hour in Fords and Chevies,—but they know nothing of the fun we had in those halcyon days of the "hug-me-tight" buggy, and the sweet winsome girl of our youth. But we stary from our subject of the past, which was rolled out from the Stewart Bros. store Wednesday. The vehicle was bought in 1922 by Hugo Simon, who was then one of the leading hardware dealers in North Texas—and ever since the buggy has been waiting patiently for a buyer and user. This will, perhaps, be the last buggy ever retailed in Farmersville—for it's place has been taken by the Henrys, the Lizzies and Chevies, while the world rushes on at a swifter pace each year. It takes greater speed each year to satisfy the craving of youth—while the older heads are falling in line and demanding 70-mile cars instead of the lowly buggies.

Former Citizen Sees Better Times In Collin County

Ray Logan of Las Cruces recently visited his old home in East Collin. The Farmersville Times has this to say concerning him:

Ray Logan, a former Farmersville man, who was reared in this community, was here this week from Las Cruces, N. M., visiting friends and home folks. Since going to New Mexico, Ray has been successful in farming and stock-raising. He goes into the game in an intensive manner and makes it pay. Of course, he is still interested in East Collin and says he believes our farmers have started in the right direction to bring this country back to prosperity—that is, by poultry raising, farm dairying, hog raising and the live stock industry. He recites the fact that the farmers of New Mexico are making money in farm-dairying and live stock farming on $250 to $300 land by raising cotton on half their land and devoting the other half to pasture and feed crops. He contends that if New Mexico farmers can do this on high-priced land, East Collin farmers have a greater opportunity for success with the natural advantages found here. Mr. Logan points to the benefits of pit silos, which he believes can be successfully used here to preserve green feed for winter feeding of dairy cows and live stock.

ONLY ONE DAY ABSENT SCHOOL IN FOUR YEARS

Tootsie Anderson, little 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ethel Parris Anderson of Melissa, was a visitor in McKinney yesterday afternoon. Little Miss Tootsie was the pupil of Miss Bertha Carroll and Mrs. B. Young, fifth grade teachers of the Melissa school for the term just ended. They awarded her an honor book for perfect attendance during the entire school, she having neither been absent nor tardy a single time during the year. She was promoted to the sixth grade. This pretty little girl thus makes five grades in four years of schooling. Doubtless, a very important factor in her good scholarship record has been her faithfulness in attendance during the four years that she has been going to school. She has been absent only one day in the entire four years.

Prof. B. Young is superintendent of the Melissa school, which is doing a fine work for all of its pupils, and is raising its standard of excellence every year.

GRAIN HARVEST BEING HELD UP BY MUCH RAIN

Considerable wheat and oats are ready for harvesting in this county now as soon as the rains cease and the land dries up sufficiently to enable the binders to operate in the fields.

In driving southward on the McKinney-Dallas pike, we notice that W. B. Perkins has already harvested a part of his oat crop on his place three miles south of town, and a few miles further on south we observed that J. W. Brown had put some of his wheat crop into the shock before the present wet spell set in.

The fall sown and volunteer oats are nearly all now about ripe enough to cut, as is also smooth-head or May wheat.

Grain crops in this city, both wheat and oats, bid fair to make an average yield if it can be harvested now in good shape, and threshed in good condition for market.

There is a considerable acreage of both wheat and oats in the county this year, and some rye and barley. However, the acreage in the latter two crops is never large when taken as a whole in this county and compared with oats and wheat.

MRS. LOVEJOY AND MRS. COMEGYS TO AUSTIN.

Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy and daughter, Mrs. George Comegys left this morning for Austin, where they will attend the graduation of their grandson and son, Lovejoy Comegys, from the State university. He is receiving his Master's degree from the university and last year he was graduated from Washington-Lee university at Lexington, Va., with a B. A. degree.

Wilkins Comegys, who also attends State, came up to drive his mother and grandmother to Austin.

LEONARD-MOSES.

Miss Madeline Moses and Mr. Jack E. Leonard were married in Dallas Sunday morning, June 2, at 9:30 o'clock. The wedding was held in the study of Dr. George W. Truett, who performed the impressive ring ceremony. The wedding was a quiet affair, the couple being unattended.

The bride's costume was a traveling suit of marine blue and sun-tan crepe. Her hat, slippers and other accessories were of sun-tan. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Leonard left in their car for a three weeks' motor trip to the Ozark mountains.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Moses of this city. She is a young lady who possesses many charms and virtues, and is held in the highest esteem by her many friends in this city and elsewhere. She came to McKinney from Rogers with her parents several years ago. She is a graduate of the Rogers High school, being valedictorian of her class. Since residing in McKinney she attended the D. W. McKey Business college, and is now a valued employe of the Collin County National bank.

The groom is a native of Birmingham, Ala., coming from a highly esteemed old Southern family. He came to Dallas, where for several years he was connected with the Federal Reserve bank. At the present time he is field representative for the Farm and Ranch Publishing company of Dallas, and travels extensively through South and West Texas. He is an ambitious young man of quiet disposition, but who numbers his friends by his acquaintances.

Following their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will return to McKinney to make their home.

This happy young couple are receiving the felicitations and congratulations of a large circle of friends upon their marriage, and best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

JEFFERSON DAVIS

His brilliant career as a political and military leader, his intellectual gifts, purity of character and gracious manner won for him the esteem of friend and foe alike. Added to these great attributes was his thrift—through careful handling of his Mississippi cotton plantation he acquired considerable wealth.

Here indeed are traits that constitute a priceless treasure. Few posseses them all, but one at least we can all acquire. Not many of us have cotton plantations, but through careful handling of our income we can acquire financial independence. A growing savings account here earning 4% interest is the best means of acquirement.

GETTING AWAY FROM McKINNEY

BY MRS. CLIFFORD WEAVER.

It seems to be an impossible accomplishment—that of ever getting away from McKinney!

My husband and I are completing our ninth year here in this friendly little city. It seems more like home to me than any other spot of the many on earth where we have sojourned in our active life of service.

This past week I embraced the opportunity while my husband was in Breckenridge, presiding over the sessions of the convention of our churches of the state, of "getting away from McKinney."

On one occasion I sat at the speaker's table in the Dallas Country club, where about 150 educators were in attendance at a Story-Tellers League luncheon.

The presiding officer, Mrs. Wiggins V. Hancock, told me that Dr. Joe Largent whipped her when she was a child. That may account for her present inclinations, for she is the beloved president of the Dallas branch of the National Story-Tellers league and chairman of this work in Texas. She was formerly Miss Zora Skaggs, the daughter of J. M. Skaggs and they lived at Mantua, when Dr. Joe Largent and Miss Hattie Lair were teachers at the Mantua academy.

Mrs. C. M. Cockrell, toastmistress, by whose side I was seated, I discovered, is also well-known and beloved by Collin county people. She is the mother of six children, but recently the Southern Methodist university has found her worthy and bestowed a degree on her. She is brilliant and charming and is the possessor of an amazing memory.

Thus in my attempt at getting away from home, I made little progress, for I was still among story tellers whom Collin county had influenced!

That, however, was not enough. I made the second attempt. I was seated as guest at the Shubert table in Stoneleigh Court, where about 500 women were having luncheon together. These women represented all the clubs of Dallas, who were federated.

I felt that I had really gotten away from McKinney at last. The lady at my left, however, soon discovered that I was from McKinney. She had been Mrs. Joe E. Largent's bridesmaid and soon we both recalled the fact that she had been on one occasion in my home, here in McKinney. I began to believe that McKinney had in some way or another touched about everybody's life in Texas and I despaired of "getting away from McKinney." Then, when the evening hour arrived I found myself seated at a dining table in a home permeated with a rare Christian atmosphere.

I sat listening to the conversation, while my eyes rested on a copy of the masterpiece of Leonardo de Vinci, the "Last Supper," the original of which we had gazed upon spellbound in an old monastery in Milan, Italy. Our hostess was a vivacious club woman, whose many attributes are enormous and whose popularity is a power throughout the state.

She is also a factor in the church socity of all the Baptist churches in Dallas being the "Program Builder." She is recognized in all lines of women's activities today throughout Texas as "Our Program Genius."

Enticing was my histess, entrancing were the other honor guests in that home, being two women in whose presence Texas women find joy and a beneediction, Mrs. W. R. Potter, state president of 50,000 Federated club women and her delightful daughter, Mrs. David Warren, both of Bowie. I found myself becoming more and more interested however, in the quiet, gray-haired man, who said grace before we ate and who sat at the head of his table, and served to us the bounties of his board.

I was seated at his left. He was quiet and indulgent to the guests whom his wife had brought into his home.

Finally, I succeeded in getting from him the story I so yearned to hear from his own lipes. Find, always, such romance in the history of, "the making of the little things," which folk are manufacturing to keep us comfortable and to serve us in our modern life.

I was seated by the side of the man who has given to America, "The serving tray," which is used by all ice cream and drinking fountain firms, the tray on which they serve the mammoth automobile public. I had heard that these folk, in whose home I was a guest, had so patented this little tray that no other manufacturer can copy it. It seemed of no small consequence to me that this tray is made solely in Dallas. My host told me that on the bottom of every tray is their private stamp, "Tra-Co."

A young army officer, after returning from overseas service, on the staff of one of the big Dallas dailies, thought this patent through. His brother had married the only daughter of my host. These brothers' names are "The McGinney Bros." The business end of the firm is the man who was my host. He is a member of Dr. Luther Truett's church in Dallas. (I liked to think of the silver coins rattling all over America into this man's little trays.) My host then told me that in the summers long ago he was a little barefoot boy in McKinney. His father owned a store on the northeast corner of the square in years gone by, for a short time. Perhaps some who read these lines may have played with him in those years, now long past.

My host's name is Walter S. Robertson. It was there that I decided that I should be compelled to give up the thought of ever "getting away from McKinney."

My heart, is beating warmly with a fluttered little prayer, however, that McKinney little boys and girls may be so influenced that when the future years find them out in the great wide world scattered everywhere that they, too, may serve" in a noble Christian way this generation even the new friends I have been meeting in places of prominence and power this week are serving.

As the eager-eyed little children troop past our house of life, the manse, daily on their way to and from school, I'm stirred deeply by the shabbiest dressed one for in my heart I know it's true that: "Thou mayest be Christ or Shakespeare, Little Child."

Farmersville Business Conditions Daily Improve

Milk and cream shipments, income of which is estimated at $3,000 weekly, together with other income from agricultural commodities and promise of good crops this year, has caused the crop outlook around Farmersville to improve considerably during recent weeks.

Onion acreage is slightly decreased, but a good crop is expected and the onions are of very excellent quality in East Collin. Corn acreage has been increased, cotton is about the same and carrot acreage is slightly decreased, with good yield expected.

Rapid strides are being made in the poultry industry, and it is estimated that this industry will be worth around $100,000 to farmers around Farmersville in 1929.

Miss Louise Garrison spent the week-end in Dallas as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Rouse.

Mrs. Hugh McClellan Is Visiting Here From Missouri

Mrs. Hugh McClellan of St. Joseph, Mo., is in McKinney visiting her sisters, Mrs. Hattie Scott and Mrs. J. J. (Book) Wilson and will also visit another sister, Mrs. Melissa Wallis on the latter's farm about eight miles northeast of McKinney.

Mrs. McClellan, who was formerly Miss Lizzie Hatler, was born and reared on the farm of her father, the late Calvin Hatler, about four miles east of Melissa. Her husband was for several years a practicing attorney of McKinney, later being licensed to preach by the Christian church.

He and his good wife left McKinney about sixteen years ago.

He is active in the ministry of his church. They have bought a good home in the St. Joseph, Mo. (city of about eighty thousand) where he makes headquarters and preaches in various churches in that section of the state.

Rev. Mr. McClellan and wife are still interested in fine chickens. Their poultry pen now has over four hundred young chickens ranging from baby chicks to broilers and fryers.

SMALL PUBLIC SQUARE TALK 55 YEARS AGO

Extract From Old Newspaper Files Published In Dallas News Proves Interesting

The Dallas Morning News is running a very interesting feature every day now under the heading: "In Dallas and State 55 Years Ago." The items under this heading are extracts taken from the files of the Dallas Herald, which paper was absorbed by the Dallas News, on Dec. 1, 1885.

The following extract from an item contained in this feature as published in May 31 issue of the Dallas News is of interest here. It reads:

McKinney Court House Location.

"The location of the new court house is the question which is just now agitating the people of McKinney. One proposition is to enlarge the public square."

It is thus seen that McKinney's restricted public square was a matter of concern to the inhabitants of our city of more than half a century ago, just the same as it is a matter of regret in this modern day that we do not have more room on it. However, the public square has been substantially paved with brick for about 20 years, and the parking regulation relieves traffic congestion to some extent and provides for one way traffic that saves much annoyance and doubtless many collisions and accidents.

The new court house of 55 years ago stood for about 53 years, when it was discarded, or rather remodeled, greatly enlarged and modernized into the beautiful reconstructed building that we now have, and which was re-occupied again by the county government a little more than a year ago.

Mrs. Amanda Myers Died at Farmersville

Mrs. Amanda Myers, 63, died at her home in Farmersville Thursday, May 23. She had been an invalid for several years and was seriously ill for a month or more. She was born in Tennessee Feb. 11, 1861, and had been a resident of Farmersville for twenty years.

She is survived by three sons, Lee, Will and Charlie, and one daughter, Cora. She was the widow of the late W. O. Myers of Farmersville.

Sad Passing of Mrs. Mary Lunsford

ELD. R. C. HORN.

On Saturday, May 18, "Aunt Mary" Lunsford's spirit left its earthly tabernacle for a house not made with hands, eternal in the home of the soul. Mary Haggard was born in the state of Tennessee, September 8, 1849 and passed from life here May 18, 1929 being 79 years 8 months and 10 days old.

When an infant she was brought by her parents to Kentucky, where she grew into womanhood. In 1867 she was married to Simon P. Lunsford, who passed away about fifteen years ago. Soon after their marriage they came to Texas and settled in what is known as the Bethany community, where they resided until 1884, when he moved to his farm a few miles south of Frisco where she resided for forty-five years. Then she left for the better life.

Early in her life she became a follower of Christ and united with the Christian church. Those who knew her testified that she lived a Christian life to the end.

The funeral services were held by the writer Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It was largely attended, the church being crowed with relatives, friends and neighbors, she leaves to mourn her departure. She is survived by five sons and four daughters and by forty grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Her husband was a Confederate soldier for nearly three years. She had been receiving a pension for a few months.

Aunt Mary, as she was called by her neighbors, had been in feeble health for several years and was tenderly nursed and cared for by her son, Fred, at her home. He aided in cooking and housekeeping and cultivated a small farm. A loving and devoted son has lost a loving and devoted mother.

All her children were devoted to their good mother, but being in homes of their own, will not miss her as Fred, her son, at home.

Teachers Must Know State And Federal Constitutions

Waco, Texas, June 1.—Beginning June 17, 1929, holders of all teacher' certificates in the State of Texas will be required to have college credit in a course dealing with the federal constitution and the constitution of Texas, or to pass an examination covering this work given by the State Department of Education, Dr. T. D. Brooks, chairman of Baylor university's school of education, has announced. This ruling is a result of a law passed in the recent session of the legislature.

This summer, Baylor will offer a course in political science, which will satisfy the new requirement for certificates. Other sections of the work may be provided for the summer session if the number of students enrolling warrants it.

ANOTHER GAS WELL COMES IN GRAYSON COUNTY

The Sherman Oil and Gas Company well in the Pottsboro area northwest of Denison, which topped a gas sand at about 880 feet Tuesday, was drilled six feet into the sand Wednesday and did 11,000,000 feet of gas by gauge. The sand will be drilled deeper.

The Simpson-Fell Oil Company brought in a gas well 300 feet west of the Sherman Oil and Gas well about two weeks ago that is doing 13,000,000 feet of gas in twelve feet of sand.

One hundred workmen with ditching machines and other equipment are laying a six-inch pipe line to the fields from the main line near Denison.

The Simpson Fell and Murchison Oil Companies are drilling deeper tests than have been drilled to the first gas sands. Both companies are drilling with rotary tools. The Sherman Oil Company well was drilled with cable tools and it is likely another location will be made by the same company immediately as a ready sale for the gas can be had.

Dallas, June 1.—The first casualty resulting from the recent Yo-Yo fad was reported Friday night, when Sidney Milam, 10 years old, who lives at Lakewood Terrace, applied at Emergency hospital for treatment for a cut on his finger inflicted by the string on a Yo-Yo with which he was playing.

According to the Extension Service Farm News Grayson county farmers are fast turning to sweet clover and alfalfa for pasture, hay and to rebuild their soil fertility: Sweet clover and alfalfa to the tune of 25,000 acres have been planted in Grayson county the last two years following a campaign and demonstrations by C. C. Morris. The larger acreage is in clover, he says, because alfalfa will not do so well on the high lands. Sweet clover is succeeding well there as a pasture and hay crop. One demonstrator pastured 10 head of milk cows and four mules on four acres from April to October last year without using supplementary feed.
